DEVELOPMENT TIMELINE

Pre-2021 — South Africa

Framework Development

The Ubuntu coaching framework — including the 4Q Model, Continuum, The System, Facilitator's Contract, and associated archetypes — was developed by David Collins through lived practice within the addiction recovery and community development sectors in South Africa. The framework draws on Ubuntu philosophy applied to adult learning, lived experience recovery, and organisational transformation.

September 2021 — Ethereum Blockchain

On-Chain Timestamping

Twenty framework components were minted as NFTs on the Ethereum blockchain via OpenSea under the U-ACT profile (wallet: 0xc020ced1e33e205c86bd2fbd7cabf459a79128c), creating immutable, publicly verifiable timestamps. This pre-trademark blockchain record constitutes prior art documentation on a decentralised, unalterable ledger — predating the trademark filing by eight months.

03 May 2022 — UK Intellectual Property Office

Trademark Filed

The figurative trademark (three-bar symbol) was filed with the UK IPO under Classes 16 and 41, covering educational publications, training materials, coaching, personal development, adult learning, online training, and the setting of training standards.

16 September 2022 — Registered

Trademark Granted

UK00003783965 entered the UK register. Owned by David Collins, Frinton-on-Sea, Essex. Licensed to David Collins Coaching, operating under Ubuntu Academy Coaching Training CiC (Co. No. 15189272). Renewal date: 03 May 2032.

2022–2026 — Three Jurisdictions

Multi-Jurisdictional Deployment

The framework is now operationalised across South Africa, the United Kingdom, and the Netherlands through licensed entities delivering treatment, training, and community recovery programmes at scale — spanning five countries and two continents.

"This framework was not built for a grant cycle. It was built in the field, documented on-chain, protected by trademark, and deployed across five countries — before the sector caught up."
